

Penalties Compared

What kind of justice is this? Both reports are from The Times, Nov. 18:

One hundred and eighty days for driving an automobile without a license—and 30 days for indecent exposure before a 15-year-old girl—both decisions rendered by the same Judge, Walter C. Allen.

What is wrong with our laws when driving without a license is considered a worse crime than the molesting of children by sex perverts?

As the father of two small girls, I feel that a law should be written compelling all proven sex offenders to be castrated.

A jail sentence does no good—they come out to continue the offenses.

Van Nuys.

J. W. STONE,

Los Angeles Times
1949 11 25, pg A5